ResearchChannel

Innovations in Technology

Why?

- To advance global networking technologies
- To explore new methods of media distribution and sharing for teaching learning and research
- To further multidisciplinary multinational scientific collaboration
- Because the consortium is uniquely qualified to do so

On the Leading Edge

- ResearchChannel is a collaboration among experts in Internet networking, storage/search infrastructure development, emerging streaming media and interactive technologies, digital television engineering, and video production.

Think Forward. Think ResearchChannel.

Projects

- First Internet HDTV transmission - IHDTV
- Digital Asset Management System Development - DigitalWell
- Automation of multiple format encoding
- MPEG2 Multicast (SD broadcast quality over IP)
- Streaming to handhelds
- ResearchChannel Internet2 Working Group

DigitalWell: Digital Asset Management

Project Focus

- Easy way to acquire, collect, classify, store ,deliver large collections of digital media over IP networks.
- Proxy for any type of large data sets but initially focused on video and audio assets
- Includes broadcast/Internet Integration
- Exploits next generation networking to ensure high quality – Deliver Realism
- Easy-to-use Web services-based interface compatible with current Web browsers and computing platforms.
- Uses pluggable authentication to ensure security and control access to collections.
- Scalable architecture ensures that collections can be built, accessed, searched and shared between disparate networked communities.
- Middleware – integrates easily
Metadata, DRM/IP, AAI, API, Grid
- Automation – End to End
Capture, Describe, Preserve, Deliver
